

Red Light Camera Class Action Lawsuits

City of Raleigh, North Carolina Town of Knightdale, North Carolina Town of Cary, North Carolina City of Wilmington, North Carolina

We need you to be a class representative in a class action lawsuit against the City of Raleigh, the Town of Knightdale, the City of Wilmington or the Town of Cary.

In order to be class representative, you must have signed up for an Administrative Hearing in your City, and then either have been judged guilty by the Hearing Panel or have refused a Hearing by the City or by the Safelight Program of that City. You must attempt to sign up for a Hearing. By State Law, you cannot join the lawsuit unless of you have done this. The law is clear that you forfeit any legal recourse unless you exhaust your administrative remedies. We understand that the Hearing Panel will convict you no matter what. But that is what we want.

At your hearing, say one of two things. If your case is not #1, then it is #2 or #3. 2 or 3 are always true. The standards NCDOT use to set yellow durations creates dilemma zones at all intersections.

1. I was not driving at the time or location of the citation. This one works for Raleigh, Knightdale and Cary. It doesn't work for Wilmington.
2. I was in a dilemma zone along the approach at this intersection when the light turned yellow. I was driving normally. Neither I could not stop safely nor could I proceed before the light turns red.
3. I was in a dilemma zone along the approach at this intersection when the light turned yellow. I could not tell whether I could stop safely or proceed before the light turned red.

Also e-mail a scan of your citation to Brian Ceccarelli.
