You are the “Affiant”. Fill out the above affidavit in front of a Notary Public. Using delivery confirmation, mail this affidavit along with a copy of your citation to the Mayor [to the mayor is Session Law 2003-380, Section 3(d)(1)].

Office of the Mayor
City of Raleigh
P.O. Box 590
Raleigh, NC 27602

Do not send mail to the Raleigh Safelight office. By law it must go the mayor’s office.

The back page of your citation says, “Your responsibility can be transferred if you identify the driver” But the citation omits North Carolina Session Law 2003-380, Section 3-d-1c and City of Raleigh Code of General Ordinances Sec. 11-2135(c)3 which says you do not have to pay the penalty if you simply mail in an affidavit saying you were not the driver of the vehicle at the time and location of the citation. You neither have to point the finger at the driver nor do have to pay if you do not know who the driver is. In the Code of Ordinances, the no-liability option appears in the next sentence after “Your responsibility can be transferred if you identify the driver” The City of Raleigh and ACS intentionally omit this option to secure payment. Jon Sanders, the head of the Raleigh Safelight Program, knows all about the omission, made it known publicly and still willfully commits the fraud. Fraud is a class H felony in the State of North Carolina.

KEEP A PAPER TRAIL

1. Make a copy of your affidavit before mailing it.
2. Make a copy of your citation.
3. Keep all the pages of the citation.
4. Mail the affidavit with the copy of your citation using “Delivery Confirmation” to the mayor. You need to have the date the US Post Office mailed the letter.
5. Make sure you mail your affidavit to Raleigh within 30 days of your violation.
6. Go to <http://www.public.cite-web.com> within 60 days of your violation. Download the full-resolution photos and the video. The written information at the top of the photos is extremely important.
7. If Raleigh sends you a Penalty letter, ignore it but keep the letter.
8. If Raleigh’s collection agency sends you a letter, keep it.
9. Scan in all your paperwork and e-mail it to canute@redlightrobber.com. Email the downloaded photos and video too. In your scans, we must be able to read the small print inside the photos on your citation.
